Task 5: Fill in the Blanks Read the story. Write down the missing words. The first one is done for you.

My grandfather loves his work room. It's a brick building with a big glass sliding door that is always unlocked. Near the wall he has three bookshelves with boxes and drawers. In them are screws, nails, wires, hammers, and screwdrivers. He has a long table to measure the wood boards he uses to build cabinets and chairs. In his work room, my grandfather can repair anything! My bicycle was broken, and I could not ride it until he repaired the front wheel. I love to watch him work, and sometimes I can help.

1. My grandfather never locks his door.
 2. The hammers and wires are in boxes on _____.
 3. He uses _____ to makes cabinets.
 4. My bicycle is not _____ now.

Task 6: Reading Comprehension Read the story. Then answer the questions. Circle the correct answers.

The police officer stopped in front of the old building. The building looked empty, so he decided to go in. He was able to open the door and walk right in because it was unlocked. Near the front door were a broom, mop, and bucket. In the kitchen, there were wires coming out from the walls. It looked like an electrician had been there. He heard the sink leaking in the bathroom. There were pipes on the floor. Maybe a plumber had tried to repair the sink. "Hmmm," the officer said to himself. "Although this building is empty, someone is trying to clean and repair it." The officer thought that soon it would no longer be empty.

1. How did the police officer go into the building?
 - A. He used a key.
 - B. He broke the lock.
 - C. He walked in the open door.
 - D. He climbed through a window.
 2. Why did the officer think an electrician had been in the building?
 - A. There was no electricity.
 - B. There were pipes on the floor.
 - C. There were wires in the kitchen.
 - D. The sink in the bathroom was leaking.
 3. What did the officer think about what he saw in the building?
 - A. The building no longer needed repairs.
 - B. Someone will be moving in soon.
 - C. The plumber won't be returning.
 - D. Nobody could ever live there.
